BRIEF GUIDE
2017

and University Facts & Figures

www.unipr.it
Dear students,

Welcome to the University of Parma. This Brief Guide is a useful tool which provides you with the main information regarding the course catalogue, the services and facilities of our University, in order to guide you during the first steps of your new academic path. Inside this booklet, you will find the list of degree and post-graduate courses, the addresses, the contacts and essential descriptions of what the University of Parma offers you to enrich your study and life experience: online services, a website and social networks, libraries, laboratories, top-level research, exchange programmes with foreign countries, support for disabled students, language courses, sports facilities and much more.

The University of Parma, which boasts a thousand years of history, has now about 25,000 students and 1,800 professors, researchers and administrative staff. Its rich course catalogue is made up of 39 First Cycle Degree Courses, 39 Second Cycle Degree Courses (4 of which entirely held in English) and 6 Single Cycle Degree Courses organized into 9 Departments. In the city centre you can find the Departments of the areas of arts and humanities, economics, law and politics, medicine and surgery and veterinary science. The other scientific Departments (areas of food and agriculture, pharmacy, engineering and architecture, mathematical, physical and natural sciences) are located in the University Campus, a 77-hectare area in the southern side of the city which also hosts a brand new Technopole and cutting-edge sports facilities for all students.

In addition, Parma is a very nice human-scale city, where life is pleasant and inhabitants are friendly and welcoming: it is not by chance that more than half of our students comes from other Italian provinces, and, consequently, our University is ranked among the top ones for the number of non-resident students.

Welcome, research, attention and innovation: they are the key ingredients to fully accomplish our mission, that is to grant you a complete and authentic experience of personal, intellectual and professional growth. You are, indeed, the centre of all our activities, the heart of one of the most important European Universities, which still preserves its ancient prestige while projecting itself into a promising future.

A really warm welcome to all of you.
IN EUROPE FOR A THOUSAND YEARS

RENOVED SINCE THE AGE OF CHARLEMAGNE

It was right in Parma, in 781 A.D., where Charlemagne and the monk Alcuin of York met to lay the foundations for the rebirth of the Palatine School; this was the first important citation of the cultural vocation of the city and its higher education activities. With an imperial decree dated 13th March 962 AD, Emperor Otto I conferred on Uberto, the Bishop of Parma, the initiation of the University in the ‘Diploma’ - a document which granted the Bishop the power to order and elect legal leaders, allowing them to exert their authority throughout the Empire.

SIGNIFICANT FOR GREAT PERSONALITIES

A number of important professors and students chose to study in Parma as far back as the 11th and 12th centuries; to name but a few, the theologian San Pier Damiani or the monk Donizone, who praised the high school of Parma in its “Vita comitissae Mathildis” (1115): “Parma leads the way in grammar [...] the seven arts are taught with passion”.

The prestige of Parma further lasted for the following centuries: even the famous poet Petrarch sent his son to study there.

FROM PARMA TO LEADING POSITIONS

According to the historian Ernest Dümmler, Parma has been a “celebrated seat of learning” since the 11th century, attracting students from countries beyond the Alps. Sinibaldo dei Fieschi and Simone de Brion studied in Parma before becoming, respectively, Pope Innocent IV and Pope Martin IV. In the 16th century the House of Farnese founded in Parma one of the most prestigious University colleges ever seen in Italy. In the 18th century Parma welcomed some distinguished scholars like the Illuminist philosopher Condillac, while in the early 19th century its popularity was so high that Napoleon extended its jurisdiction as far as Alessandria.

UP-TO-DATE STRUCTURES AND SERVICES

The University of Parma has been able to maintain its vitality for a thousand years thanks to its key capacity of constantly keeping up with the times. Nowadays, the results of such success are evident in every department, through its links with the world of work, its technological facilities and its excellent research activities. Moreover, there is a continuous effort towards the improvement of services to ease students’ academic life, to make their educational background more effective and to simplify their access to working careers. Every year a new and better solution is found.
RESEARCH

The University of Parma boasts top-level scientific research: outstanding results of research teams, articles on the main international scientific journals and a number of successful partnerships with other important universities are just some examples of such high quality.

Our research teams excel in a number of fields: from food and agriculture to biotechnologies, from innovative treatment to experimental medicine, not to mention law, economics and arts.

Among the greatest discoveries of our researchers, we must not forget the “mirror neurons” in the field of Neurosciences and the studies in Information Engineering concerning Intelligent Transportation Systems, which have led to the creation of Intelligent Vehicles.

The University of Parma also features a leading TechnoPole for industrial research, which includes cutting-edge research centres operating in different industrial sectors.
A LOVELY PLACE TO LIVE

A FRIENDLY CITY FOR MODERN LIVING

Busy but not chaotic, tidy but not boring, Parma is a perfect combination of beauty and efficiency: a pleasant medium-sized city of about 194,563 inhabitants where riding a bicycle is the ideal way to move around. The neighbouring peaceful countryside is enclosed by the fascinating Po valley to the north and the woods of the Apennines to the south. The Ligurian sea is also an hour away by car. The high quality of living in Parma is immediately perceivable and the University perfectly takes part in this favourable mix of florid economic activities, especially the remarkable food industry and the typical pleasure for life of the inhabitants of Emilia Romagna.

From 2003, Parma is also the location of the European Food Safety Authority (EFSA).

Moreover, in December 2015, Parma obtained the UNESCO label of “Creative City of Gastronomy”.

SO MUCH TO SEE, TO DO, TO DISCOVER

Parma offers a wide range of cultural and entertainment opportunities all year round: about twenty theatres and cinemas, exhibitions, museums and art galleries where you can admire the masterpieces of the local painters Correggio and Parmigianino and a worldwide famous opera house, the Teatro Regio. Music has a leading role in the city, with the Verdi opera festival or the international jazz music festival, rock concerts and performances in the modern Paganini Auditorium designed by the well-known architect Renzo Piano. Great importance is given to performing arts as well, with an international theatre festival. Just choose one of the events Parma offers throughout the year and you will realize that cultural life here never stops.
ORGANIZATION

THE RECTOR
The Rector represents the University and supervises all its activities. He/she is elected every six years, convening and presiding over the Academic Senate and the Board of Administration.

THE VICE-RECTOR
The Vice-Rector is designated by the Rector to replace him when absent or unable to preside.

THE ACADEMIC SENATE
This body draws up the fundamental guidelines through which the University develops its teaching and research activities and student services. It is composed of the Rector, the Department Directors, 5 student representatives, 3 staff representatives, 6 faculty members representatives.

THE GENERAL DIRECTOR
In synergy with the Board of Administration, the General Director supervises the administrative and accounting office. He/ she is in charge of managing the student services, the university assets and the administrative and technical staff.

ERASMUS AND INTERNATIONAL HOME
The University of Parma welcomes all students to the “Erasmus and International Home” (EIH), the new service centre for international activities and exchanges, located in Piazzale San Francesco, 3. The EIH primarily offers information and a front-office service for both outgoing and incoming students and staff (academic and administrative). The EIH team provides assistance as regards Erasmus and other Exchange Programmes, and deals with international mobility, bilateral agreements and visiting programmes. The staff also manages contacts with partner universities and offers support and advice on queries and issues regarding visas and immigration, employment regulations, accommodation, academic concerns, culture shock and money matters. The EIH is indeed a welcoming “home” fostering intercultural exchange and dialogue. The structure has no architectural barriers and is equipped with gathering areas, multimedia devices and a coffee-break corner.

LE ELI-CHE: SERVICE FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES AND DISADVANTAGED PEOPLE – SERVICES FOR STUDENTS WITH LEARNING DISABILITIES or SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS
The Delegate of the Rector, Prof. Caronna, and her collaborators welcome disabled students at the Eli-Che. Eli-Che provides assistance in creating personalized academic curriculums as well as grants, the latest equipment and services required for personal needs (Law 104/92). Students with certified disabilities of 66% or higher, or possessing the Law 104 certification must submit the documentation to the Students’ Registry Office of their course, since they are entitled to exemption from university tuition fees. Through the Eli-Che, these students may request transportation, may be given use of an electric scooter, can request to be supported by a student tutor or peer who attends the same course and who will be paid for 150 hours of work (Law 17/99). Disabled students can also follow specific programmes for Erasmus scholarships, can do voluntary work and obtain ECTS credits for sport activities. The Eli-Che service also welcomes and helps students with certified disabilities of less than 66% and students in temporary or permanent need, including students with learning disabilities and with Special Educational Needs (B.E.S.). Students with Specific learning difficulties (D.S.A.) must hand in their certified diagnosis to the Eli-Che if they do not have any diagnosis or they have an out-of-date diagnosis, they can ask for a new one at our assistants at the “Local Health Service”; this way, the Delegate and her professional collaborators can plan specific educational programmes. Thanks to special agreements, the Eli-Che also dedicates particular attention to students with autistic spectrum disorder.

HOUSING AND MEALS
The University of Parma has signed accomodation agreements with the “Residenza Terzo Millennio” and “Le Residenze del Campus”.
The "Residenza Terzo Millennio", located next to the University Campus, is a modern residential hall where students can live in shared flats or studios. RTM Living - Phone Number: 0039/0521/708041

"Le Residenze del Campus" is a housing complex for university students, located near the University Campus and several facilities, namely a shopping centre, bus stops, a sports centre etc. The flats have different sizes 50-64-72 sq.

info@lesresidenzedelcampus.it

In addition, within the city there are several residences and colleges for students in private buildings.

ER.GO provides student housing with more than 600 rooms in 6 halls of residence within the city of Parma. There are two possible ways to apply for housing:
- at www.er-go.it for access to fixed rent benefits, based on income and merit requirements
- through the halls of residence ‘vacancies board’ called BORSINO, for rooms left (available on www.er-go.it).

ER.GO also manages a network of canteens and bars (5 self-service restaurants and snack bars) as well as public self-service restaurants. Call Center 0039/051/6436900.

PSYCHOLOGICAL COUNSELLING SERVICE
The University “Psychological Counselling Service” is a special service dedicated to current and future students, to graduates, to the university staff (both academic and administrative staff) and their families. The Counselling service is based on the establishment of a relationship of assistance aimed at reorganising the resources of the individual and at developing coping strategies for difficult situations. It involves individual or group interviews led by psychologists trained in this area.

The office is located in Piazzale San Francesco, 2.

CUS PARMA, THE UNIVERSITY SPORTS CENTRE
The University of Parma promotes well-being and healthy lifestyles by encouraging students to practise sports at all levels and providing access to structured programmes in different sports. Such opportunities are offered by the University through its CUS – the University Sports Centre. The CUS manages all sport activities and facilities. Among the CUS sport facilities, located at the Campus-Parco Area delle Scienze, you will find a gym for volleyball and basketball, a 6-lanes athletic track, 7 tennis courts, 2 multipurpose facilities, 5 five-a-side football fields (4 outdoor fields with synthetic grass, 1 natural grass field and 2 indoor fields), 1 indoor athletic straight lane, 1 outdoor basketball court, 1 hall for muscular training and pump; 1 hall for aerobics, 1 six-hole golf green and driving range, a fencing hall, a judo hall, 3 football fields. The CUS also manages the Club La Raquette and an artificial lake in Medesano.

More than 60% of the students at the University of Parma come from outside the province of Parma. The University attracts students not only from Emilia Romagna, but also from other regions: many students (more than 15%) are from Lombardy, while other students from Sicily and Apulia consider Parma as the ideal location to live in and study at.
